Dear Collabratus:

As we approach the end of 2006, we want you to know how very much we have appreciated your professional services this year.

Outsourcing our database programming and support needs to Collabratus has been the perfect solution for our company. The availability and expertise of your technicians has served us over and over again as we responded to the needs of our corporate clients and worked to improve the functionality and reporting capabilities of our database. Your suggestions and enhancements have insured us of accuracy and made our efforts increasingly productive. Collabratus has exhibited integrity, honesty, and has the development/database skills necessary to help All Jeweled Up reach its goals.

We appreciate the timely, professional service you have provided and look forward to the continuation of our relationship for many years to come.

Sincerely,

Kurtis R. Gilbert
CEO
